I have not traveled the full length of Route 66 from Los Angeles to Chicago, but I have been on Route 66 in Oklahoma with my parents, when I was 11 years old. I also traveled on Route 66 in Arizona, with my Army buddy Julius Maybee. Julius and I, were stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona - Military Intelligence School in 1979. When the holidays came around, Julius and I, decided to do a road trip. I have seen the Grand Canyon from the air and Julius and I, discussed in visiting the Grand Canyon in person and doing some hiking along Kaibab Plateau and the South Rim. As we prepared for our road trip we started talking about Route 66 and yes, in 1979, I was very much interested in the paranormal. I mentioned about some ghostly legends of Route 66 and before I knew it, Julius says ....."forget the Grand Canyon, let's explore Route 66!" During out road trip, we stopped at Meteor Crater and that was a sight to see. We took a detour on US 89A and stopped by the mystical land of Sedona. At Flagstaff, we ran out of gas and hiked over to the gas station, which was about 7 miles away and then hiked back to the car and gassed up. I learned quickly that when you go on a long road trip, you should always have a full tank of gas. A valuable lesson learned. One of the legends I learned is that on Route 66 by Flagstaff there is a ghost called the "Route 66 Batboy" that walks Route 66. The Route 66 Batboy is wearing a striped baseball uniform, a baseball cap and carrying what looks like a Louisville Slugger. This ghostly batboy is walking on the side of the road and looks exhausted. We received this ghost story from a gas clerk in Flagstaff. According to the gas clerk, he once pulled up to the batboy to see if he was okay and the batboy seemed to mumble "I'm thirsty". When he mumbled those words, the gas clerk started looking inside his car for some kind of beverage and when he looked up, the batboy was gone. The gas clerk thinks the batboy was originally on a baseball team with Flagstaff High School and may have died in the 1920s from heat exhaustion. The gas clerk's mother recalls a high school boy that died on the side of the road from heat exhaustion and that his girlfriend threw him out of her car after an argument and he was walking home on a hot Summer day.

While in Flagstaff, we definitely had our eyes open for the batboy. We never encountered this ghost. We made a stop at the Hotel Monte Vista in Flagstaff, Arizona and heard stories from the hotel employees that John Wayne, Harry Truman and Bing Cosby stayed at this hotel. The "Monte Vista Bellboy" haunts this hotel and if you stay in Room 210 - The Zane Grey Room, the bellboy will pay you a visit and knock on your door. Some guests have also seen "The Old Lady with a Cane" ghost. Guests will hear the sound of a cane hitting the floor and when they open the door, they will see an old lady with a slight hunch back, walking with a cane. One of the guests called out to her, to see if she needed help and the old lady turned around and disappeared.

Another haunted place on Route 66 that I did not visit, but heard about is the haunted Meramec Caverns in Stanton, MO. This was the hideout of Jesse James. Tourists claim that they see a man in black and they believe it's the ghost of Jesse James. The caverns are also haunted by the "Meramec Mountain Lion", a ghostly cat that wanders around the cavern. A tourist named Lyle Corvan in 1987 claims he saw this cat and it looked like it was going to leap on him and in midair it vanished.

When I went to visit my family in Lehigh, Oklahoma with my parents, we stopped off at Belvidere Mansion in Claremore, Oklahoma. The mansion is very majestic and looks like a castle. There have been reports of toilets flushing on their own, people getting touched, cabinets opening. There have been 3 sighting reports of a "Lady in Mauve". A ghostly middle-aged woman wearing a flowing dress that is the color of mauve is seen sometimes roaming the hallways.

Julius and I, stopped by the Oatman Hotel in Oatman, Arizona and an employee of the hotel makes claim that the ghosts of Clark Gable and Carole Lombard haunt this hotel. Clark and Carole stayed at this hotel and now that they are deceased, they are still here, because they loved this hotel. Guests at this hotel make claim that they hear them talking and they hear Carole giggling. The Oatman Hotel also has a pesky ghostly gray cat that haunts the hotel and will sit on the windowsill and then vanish. There have been other times when a guest will feel the presence of a cat lying next to them in bed.

Gilcrease Museum in Tulsa, Oklahoma is another place that my parents and I, stopped at. Legend has it that the Gilcrease Museum is haunted by its founder Thomas Gilcrease. Legend has it that if the hotel is visited by 3 crows that make squawking noises, the ghost of Gilcrease will be seen.

I grew up reading Peanuts. Charlie Brown, Linus, Snoopy were my childhood heroes. As a kid, I anxiously a waited for the newspaper to arrive, so I could read the comic strips. Peanuts was on top of the list. My favorite thrill was when Snoopy would go after the Red Baron! The below song pays homage to Snoopy vs. the Red Baron became my favorite, you can hear it here:

www.youtube.com/watch?v=wtJ1Gnh9wPU
Snoopy vs. The Red Baron by the Royal Guardsman

Now you are probably wondering what this has to do with the paranormal. Well, let me get to that. Let's talk a bit about the museum. The Charles M. Schulz Museum and Research Center is a museum dedicated to the works of Charles M. Schulz, creator of the Peanuts comic strip. The museum opened on August 17, 2002, two years after Schulz died, and is in Santa Rosa, California. The address to the museum is below:

Charles M. Schulz Museum
2301 Hardies Lane
Santa Rosa, CA

Deanna Jaxine Stinson, Psychic Medium and I, have been to several paranormal investigations in Santa Rosa and on one of our trips to Santa Rosa we drove by the Charles M. Schulz Museum. We did not go inside, because we did not want to be late to our investigation, but we did want to see what the museum looked like. The first thing that came out of Deanna's mouth is that the museum is haunted! Deanna did not indicate haunted by what, but just yesterday (10/25/2022) I received this report on Facebook, from an anonymous source:

"Last night I met one of the editors for the Press Democrat (Santa Rosa) who told me that Charles Schulz haunts the outside surroundings of his studio. Craig Schulz even confirms that his dad's spirit is alive and well outside of the studio. People who walk their dog near his studio normally get a reaction when their dogs react to something that is unseen. The same guy had an interesting encounter when he walked his dog near Charles Schulz studio. He told me he only lives two blocks away. So apparently the only living creatures that actually can sense his ghost are dogs. He jokingly said that it's the ghost of Snoopy."

I would imagine that the museum and the studio would be haunted, because many objects in the museum were personally touched by Charles M. Schulz, transferring his energy upon the objects. This is called psychometry. Psychometry is a form of extrasensory perception in which energy of a living or deceased person is attached to the object. Many psychic mediums have the gift of psychometry. When a psychic medium touches an object, the energy that they feel from the object allows the psychic medium to read the history of the object. Some parapsychologists assert that an object may have an energy field that transfers knowledge regarding that object's history. I believe Charles M. Schulz energy is throughout this museum/studio and I believe that Charles M. Schulz presence is at the former site of his Santa Rosa home that was completely destroyed during the October 2017 wildfires in California. One of my high school friends John Tyler Hester of Mill Valley says that he has felt the strong presence of Charles M. Schulz at the museum and when he was looking at a display, he was tapped on the shoulder by an unknown entity. When the tapping occurred, he felt a cold breeze go through him. John says he has psychic abilities and may have encountered Charles M. Schulz at the museum. John says he is sensitive to the paranormal.

HPI Paranormal Investigator and Youtube Documentarian Christian Appel investigates many historical sites, cemeteries, etc. He is aware that the Charles M. Schulz Museum/studio may be haunted and he may look more into this case. If he does, I will let the readers know what he finds. His youtube channel is located here, see below:

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT:
ALL VIDEO FOOTAGE AND PHOTOS WERE LOST. THE MEMORY CHIP WAS ACCIDENTLY DESTROYED.

INITIAL REPORT:
Date to be there: October 22, 2022, Saturday
Time to be there: 3pm
Address to be at: 3709b L6th Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95817
Activity: This is limited to a few investigators, so please message me and tell me if you are going. Here's the story. The night light goes off and on - on its own. Shadow people seen in the home. At times a rotten meat smell is detected. Husband died recently. A close friend also passed away. The house was built in 1910. Granddaughter was scratched on her back by the entity. An entity (doppleganger) mimics in appearance as Rosey (the occupant). The entity just recently made another appearance, not as Rosey, but as her granddaughter.

10/21/2022 - SCOPING OUT THE HOME BEFORE THE INVESTIGATION
Deanna Jaxine Stinson, psychic medium and I, went on a test run last night, just to see if we can easily locate the home. We had our dogs with us (Story and Champagne). As we approached the house, the dogs started acting crazy and barking aggressively. Deanna felt a curse on the house and on the family. As we parked by the house, Deanna started feeling nauseated. When this happened, I took Deanna and the dogs home. As we were leaving the house, Deanna's nausea went away and the dogs stopped barking. On this night, when I went to sleep, I dreamed I was at a meat processing plant and there was meat hanging on hooks. As I approached the meat, it smelled foul. I wonder if it has anything to do with this home, because the occupants smelled rotten meat in their home. Another thing that was quite unusual is that Deanna was able to point out the house. She did not know the address. She pointed at the house and said she felt strong negativity and then the dogs started barking and howling as if they knew the house was cursed. When I told Rosey that Deanna felt the house was cursed, she agreed and believes it has to do with her downstairs renter who practices dark arts, dark witchcraft and does not like Rosey. In fact, this renter did not want me to cleanse the home and was very angry about it.

THE INVESTIGATION:
When I arrived, I gave Rosey a blessed care package created by Deanna, that had assorted candles, Dragon Blood Sage and other items. Rosey briefed me about the torment she has felt in this home, things have been so terrifying, she started crying during the interview. Some of the things that has been happening is that the entity mimics her and the granddaughter. The granddaughter actually saw the entity and the entity looked like her, but an older version of herself. Another time the entity was walking around looking like Rosey. Rosey hears whispering in the kitchen and to my surprise, we capture an EVP of a woman saying..."can you hear me?" Then when we proceeded into the bedroom, we captured an EVP that sounds like a woman and a man talking. The EVP voices said: "they are trying to be quiet now". Our ghost hunting teddy bear was beeping like crazy and that is when we were getting our EVPs.

THE CLEANSING
I conducted a Roman Catholic house blessing. Rosey walked with me. Rosey was very emotional during the time she gave me her briefing and during the cleansing. Rosey and her granddaughter were very appreciative that I showed up to conduct the investigation and cleansing.

On the paranormal hotline, I sometimes get some pretty interesting calls. On 10/11/2022, I received a phone call from a gentleman from South Carolina. This gentleman who does not want to be identified is a skydiver, I will call him Mr. C. The story has to do with sky diving. I am somewhat familiar with skydiving. I once did a tandem jump at Sky Dance - Sky Diving in Davis, Ca. The one-time experience was good enough for me, but I was still interested in "sky" adventures and went on to take flying lessons in a private airplane and later a helicopter. That was the end of my sky adventures. But, for some people it never ends. I met many professional skydivers and skydiving is in their blood. My skydiving instructor was always looking up to the sky and I know his thoughts were high above. The caller yesterday is a skydiving enthusiast and the call is about a deceased skydiver.

Mr. C tells me that on three different occasions, he has seen the deceased skydiver in the drop plane. The sightings only last for a few seconds and he believes that other skydivers have seen the apparition of the deceased skydiver, but they haven't discussed it. The deceased skydiver was a professional skydiver with extensive experience. Mr. C says that the deceased skydiver had over 1000 jumps. On the day that tragedy struck, the deceased skydiver was preparing for his solo jump, and everything seemed to be regular. When he actually jumped, the freefall was standard, the parachute deployed normally. The danger came when he reached a low attitude and made a sharp turn, the error was in the landing sequence. The landing was fatal.

Mr. C says that sightings of this deceased skydiver on the skydiving plane does not unnerve him, but what does have him shook up is that on two different nights, he has seen the deceased skydiver at the foot of his bed. When this happens, his bedroom turns icy cold and when he sees the apparition, it appears that he is trying to communicate something, because his mouth is moving, but no words can be heard. I asked Mr. C what is his goal from this call? Mr. C says that he basically wants to know what the message is, and he would like for the deceased skydiver to go towards the light. I suggested a psychic that has the ability to send spirits into the light. Fortunately, Mr. C actually knows a psychic from his high school days and is now consulting his psychic friend. Mr. C says he will give me an update at a later time.

My thoughts:
I hope the deceased skydiver finds the peace that he needs. This has all of the earmarks of an intelligent haunting.

DEMONS & GHOSTS WHO MIMIC

As a paranormal investigator and investigating over 2,500 cases, I have discovered that either ghosts or demons seem to enjoy mimicking people. On some of my cases, especially my demonic cases, I will get EVPs in which the entity will sound like one of the occupants in the house. Case example: A case in Yuba City, CA, the patriarch of the household will hear his son talking in the bedroom. When the father opens the bedroom door, his son is not in the room, in fact his son is outside playing with his sister. Another case that occurred in San Jose, California, the mother of the household hears her daughter chanting and she runs into the hallway to see her daughter walking down the hallway and then vanishes. The mother opens up her daughter's bedroom door and her daughter is sound asleep. Is it possible that these children are astral projecting and that is why family members see them as ghostly figures? Or is it a ghost or demon mimicking the children of these households? One EVP that I captured, it sounded like the couple's daughter. The EVP said..."it's time to leave now!" The daughter was in the bedroom sleeping, so we knew it wasn't actually the daughter talking into the recorder. The mother listening to the EVP exclaims.."that's my daughter's voice!!" The mother and I, ran into the daughter's bedroom and yes, she was in a deep sleep.

CROCOTTA - A CRYPTIC THAT MIMICS

My uncle Jose "Joe" Causing was a Merchant Marine and when he made a stop in India, he heard about a cryptid called the Crocotta. The Crocotta is a mythical dog wolf and is seen in India and Ethiopia. Its appearance is of a large dog, head of a hyena, has a horse like main, and a tail of a lion. A local saw a Crocotta that was orange yellow with spots. The local told my uncle that the Crocotta can mimic human speech and will sound like it's in distress. The local said the Crocotta that he encountered cried like a small child and was yelling "Āmākē sāhāyya kara" (which means "help me" in Bengali). The local ran over to where he heard the voice and encountered the Crocotta. The Crocotta chased the local and when the local reached 3 people on a trail, the Crocotta vanished. The local told my uncle to be wary of where he walks and the Crocotta is known to be deadly.

DOPPLEGANGERS

When I was stationed in Germany with the US Army, I took some R&R with my Sergeant Major to Slovenia and Croatia. While visiting these countries, I would ask the locals about various paranormal legends, and I was told about two legendary doppleganger stories. The first story is about a woman waiting for a bus and across the street she sees a bus passing by and in the last window of the bus, she sees herself staring back at her. One week later, her father died. She believes by seeing her doppleganger, that she was cursed. The other story I heard about is that a popular teacher was teaching her class to her 5th grade students. The students looked out the window and saw their teacher outside tending to her roses and she was also in the classroom teaching a history lesson to her students. When the children told the teacher that she was also outside tending to her roses, the teacher looks outside and her doppleganger had already vanished.

BLACK EYED BOYS

Jihanna is a paranormal experiencer and she contacted me on the paranormal hotline. She had a very interesting story to tell. This is her story. Jihanna tells me that last year in her home in downtown Sacramento, she encountered the paranormal phenomenon the Black-Eyed Boys. She remembers that in June 2009, she saw a tall skinny kid with a baseball cap on, dirty white t-shirt, blue jeans and tennis shoes standing with a short stocky boy wearing a flannel red shirt, blue jeans and tennis shoes standing out on her driveway. They kept looking towards her kitchen window and she thought it was quite odd, because their faces seemed to be blurry. No matter how hard she tried, she could not recognize their faces. Every part of their bodies were crystal clear, but when she looked at their faces, their faces were completely indistinguishable.

The boys stood on her driveway for up to two hours and still looking towards the kitchen window. Finally, she had enough and went outside to confront the boys. When she confronted the boys, she noticed that they had no white in their eyes. Their eyes were completely black. Cold chills ran down the back of her spine. Somehow, she mustered up enough courage to ask them why they were standing in her driveway. The boys simply said…"we are sorry, we are just hungry, can we come in for a bite to eat?" She told them no. They kept asking if they could come in, Jihanna ran back to the house and locked the door, she was terrified.

Jihanna says in her own words:

"For a period of three days straight, they kept showing up on my driveway. Enough was enough and I called the police. When the police came they were nowhere in sight. After that, they never showed up on her driveway, but every once in a while, she would see them in the downtown area, like they were following her. Jihanna says: "They will be behind a tree, I will drive to another section of Sacramento and I would see them again or I will see them on the side of the road as I am driving by and they will just stare at me. What is amazing is that they can be in two different locations miles apart as quickly as I can drive from one point of town to another point of town.

They always wear the same clothes. This year, I haven't been pestered by these black-eyed boys and I hope they will never come back again.

UPDATE: In 2014, Jihanna had some new neighbors that moved in next door. The neighbors were a couple (husband and wife) and their 2 boys. The 2 boys resembled the black-eyed boys! The only difference, is that she can make out their faces, one boy was skinny with the same baseball cap on and a dirty white t-shirt and the brother was a short stocky boy wearing a flannel red shirt. It was uncanny, how they resembled the black-eyed boys that once terrorized her. The brothers when wearing other type of clothes helped Jihanna forget about the black-eyed boys, but she wonders if the black-eyed boys were somehow connected to these 2 brothers or they were mimicking a future event?

I am now retired from the California Department of Fish and Wildlife. One of my tasks was being the Custodian of Records. I worked with a multitude of attorneys, judges and law enforcement personnel in locating various records for court cases. Some law enforcement personnel from other states became very familiar with me, as I became familiar with them, since I was providing many documents for their cases. Many documents received my stamp of approval, that they were true copies from the original. When working with a Royal Canadian Mounted Police (officer) in obtaining records, it became a long process as there were many documents to scan. I became sort of good friends with the requesting officer. We would discuss the weather in Canada vs the weather in California. Or we would discuss what we had going on for the weekend. When I told the Canadian officer that I was a paranormal investigator, he became very interested in some of my cases. One day, I casually asked him if he ever worked on a Wendigo case (as a joke). To my surprise, he told me that he once talked with a terrified hunter that made claim that while walking through the woods, he kept hearing a baby crying. The hunter was mystified on why a baby would have been brought out to the deep woods, where there are other hunters and wild animals. The hunter gravitated toward the crying noise and when he reached an embankment, he was horrified to see a 10-foot-tall skinny humanoid with antlers on his head. The creature had pale skin. The hunter realized he was looking at a Wendigo. The Wendigo hissed at the hunter and started walking towards him. The hunter ran as fast as he could and luckily for the hunter, came upon 3 other hunters. He told the 3 hunters what he encountered, and they laughed at him. The reason why the hunter related the story to the Canadian officer is because once again, he heard a baby crying in the woods, but this time he did not encounter a Wendigo. I asked the Canadian officer if he believed the hunter and the Canadian officer says he also hears a lot of Bigfoot stories, so he feels there just might be strange creatures in the woods. The Canadian officer says during his work with the force, he has never encountered anything paranormal, but has heard many stories from hikers, hunters, campers, in regard to paranormal encounters. The Canadian officer closed the conversation by saying with so many people seeing things, there has to be something odd going on.

VINCE WIEGUANG LI, WENDIGO?

So, what is a Wendigo? Native Americans say that a Wendigo is an immortal evil spirit and the essence of this cryptid centers on cannibalism. Wendigos are cursed creatures that wander the land, looking for their prey. Wendigos seek human victims, so they can consume their flesh. They have a voracious appetite. The name Wendigo was translated to mean cannibal in 1860 by a German explorer. Wendigos are known to frequent the woods of Minnesota and various areas of Canada. Ontario, Canada has many sightings of the Wendigo and locals call Ontario the Wendigo Capital of the World. Legend has it that a Wendigo can transfer its soul into a human being and make that human being kill and consume a human victim. Like the case of the killing of Tim McLean. On July 30, 2008, Tim McLean, a carnival barker took a bus and was headed home to Winnipeg. On the bus, he encountered Vince Li. As Vince Li was boarding the bus, Tim gave him a small nod of recognition as Vince sat across from Tim with the aisle separating them. Tim placed on his headphones and fell asleep. Vince kept hearing voices in his head that he must kill Tim or Tim will kill him. Various parapsychologists believe those voices were from a Wendigo, that Vince was possessed by a Wendigo spirit. Vince got up from his seat and proceeded to stab Tim over and over again. The passengers on the bus ran outside for safety and witnessed Vince stabbing Tim many times in the chest and neck and eating Tim's heart and severing his head. Many Canadians to this day believe that the Wendigo spirit possessed Vince Li.

ARMIE HAMMER, POSSESSED BY WENDIGO SPIRIT?
Former A Lister Star Armie Hammer text a female acquaintance that he was 100 percent cannibal. Armie Hammer at the age of 7 moved to the Cayman Islands and lived in the Cayman Islands for 5 years. It is known that Canadians enjoy vacationing in the Cayman Islands. A Canadian writer that used to write for my newsletter said that a Wendigo possessed Canadian on vacation in the Cayman Islands could easily transfer that evil energy into another human being. Now this theory may be plausible as my half-brother Joseph Soyo while partying in the Cayman Islands remembers a drunken Canadian man yelling at a woman saying that he would devour her. Security had to escort this Canadian vacationer to his hotel room. So, I wonder if Armie Hammer encountered a Canadian tourist that was possessed with the Wendigo spirit and the spirit transferred into Armie's body at a young age? The only reason I am throwing this theory out there is that I came across a twitter message saying that Armie Hammer is a Wendigo. Anything is possible, either Armie is psychologically disabled and obsessed with cannibalism or somehow, he became possessed by the Wendigo spirit while living in the Cayman Islands. I will let you decide.

Photos below in order: Westin St. Francis Hotel. Deanna with bay bridge behind her. Deanna at the beach in San Francisco.

The Westin St. Francis Hotel is located at 335 Powell Street in San Francisco and the Sir Francis Drake Hotel is located at 450 Powell Street in San Francisco. It almost seems that these two hotels, which are on the same street, compete with each other on which one is most haunted. When I was attending Oceana High School in Pacifica as a teenager, I would drive my 65 Dodge Coronet Station Wagon or my 64 Chevy Impala to San Francisco constantly and of course, I would have my high school friends in the car. One of the places we would stop to party is the Westin St. Francis Hotel. My high school friends would always rent out a room or even two rooms, so they could celebrate someone's birthday, or celebrate if our high school won a football game. When I was in high school, I didn't really pay attention to the ghost stories in regard to the Westin St. Francis Hotel. The night I did pay attention is when I was attending a party at the Westin St. Francis Hotel and one of the high school girls ran down the hallway screaming, claiming she saw a ghostly face in the hotel window. The ghostly face was of a man. When this girl told her story, the other high school kids laughed at her. I believe she definitely saw something, she genuinely seemed scared.

The next time I visited the Westin St. Francis Hotel and the Sir Francis Hotel is when I attended the Haunted San Francisco Ghost Tour. I learned all about the sordid stories of these hotels. Now in the present time, I received a call on the paranormal hotline from Revy Lancaster of Chicago, Illinois. Revy says that he stayed at the Westin St. Francis Hotel with his wife, and they stayed in one of the reputed haunted rooms. Room 1219. Revy claims that while staying in that room with his wife, they heard a female gasping for air and saying..."Fatty, no!" When Revy told me that story, I immediately perked up with my paranormal antenna fully extended. Room 1219 was one of the rooms that Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle - film star & comedian reserved for his party in 1921. At this party aspiring actress and party girl Virginia Rappe was supposedly raped by Fatty Arbuckle. Virginia eventually bled to death. Also, in this same room on a different night, Al Jolson - actor/singer was playing cards and died. Room 1219 is one of the most haunted rooms in this hotel. Westin St. Francis Hotel had many political & entertainment notables staying at this hotel. In fact, would-be assassin Sarah Jane Moore fired 2 shots at President Gerald Ford at this hotel. Deanna Jaxine Stinson, Psychic Medium and I, decided to pay a visit to the Westin St. Francis Hotel and the Sir Francis Drake Hotel. While at the Westin St. Francis Hotel, Deanna picked up on a fat man doing a little shuffle dance and holding what appeared to be a chunk of ice. I believe Deanna picked up on Fatty Arbuckle. I did not obtain any EVPs and did not witness anything I would consider as paranormal. Deanna being a psychic medium picks up on spirit activity quickly. Many guests at this hotel have terrible nightmares and a couple of guests have seen the ghostly image of Virginia Rappe pulling her hair out. Another thing that Deanna picked up on was the image of an elderly lady ghost wandering the hallway. Deanna says that she felt this ghost was harmless.

When Deanna and I, left the St. Francis, we had one more stop. We had to visit the Sir Francis Drake Hotel. Some of you may be asking.."did you get a room?" The answer is no. With Deanna roaming the hallways, I feel confident that if there is something there, Deanna will pick up on it. Now to the Sir Francis Drake Hotel. When we arrived at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, we did our "paranormal sweep". Basically, roaming the hallways. According to past reports, a woman guest at this hotel had her hair pulled and thrown to the bathroom floor in her room. If that story is true, that is pretty intense. I learned that a previous owner of this hotel committed suicide in the Starlight Room on the 21st Floor. Many guests have claimed to have seen his ghost roaming the hallways. Another unusual item about this story is that the elevator will skip the 21st floor. This issue with the elevator has happened many times, frustrating many guests. Another legendary story is that a woman with her divorce attorney met up with her estranged husband in the lobby of this hotel. The husband was very upset to see the divorce attorney and pulled out a gun and shot his wife and then shot himself, a murder suicide in the lobby of this hotel. They say that Room 823 of this hotel is very haunted. When Deanna walked past this room, she picked up on a woman with a disfigured face, that stared back at her and then vanished. I attempted to get some EVPs and was unsuccessful. Some of my photos at both hotels show "orbs", but orbs can be almost anything. Nevertheless, it was a very interesting investigation and it's always fun to head out to San Francisco.

A sidenote:
When I worked for the California Secretary of State as a Supervising Program Technician III, I was given a private tour of the Secretary of State Archives and California Museum. The tour guide took me and Kendra Larry (another SOS employee) to the safe. The safe was open and the tour guide showed us the gun used by Sirhan Sirhan to kill presidential candidate Robert Kennedy. I was allowed to hold the gun in my hand. My thoughts on Sirhan Sirhan. He should never be released into society. Paul Dale Roberts.

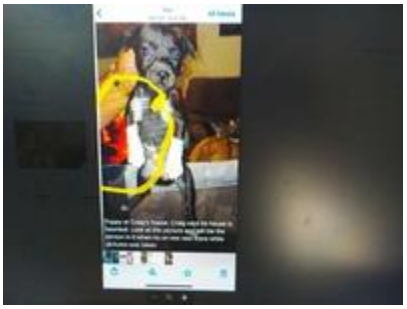
On this day 10/2/2022, I received a call from Catherine DeFazio Case # 91B6821S3N237. Catherine has studied parapsychology and is a psychic reader. Catherine says that at her ex-boyfriend's house, dogs and puppies will mysteriously fall ill and die, one puppy had his head mysteriously crushed. A wall of this house caught fire, possibly caused by a poltergeist. A nail gun was picked up by an invisible force and thrown across the room. Security cameras capture demonic faces and orb activity. One demonic face was red in color, as seen in this photo:



The wall that caught on fire by the Fruitridge Poltergeist, can be seen here:

The reason why I call this poltergeist the Fruitridge Poltergeist is that the home is located in the Fruitridge area of Sacramento. The Red-Faced Demon is explanatory. As for the photo of the red-faced demon, could this just be a case of pareidolia, or was there really a red-faced demon looking at the camera, while the puppy was being held? Catherine does not want to give her ex-boyfriend her thoughts on the matter, she feels it is a conflict of interest and would like my opinion on the photos. The photos are interesting, but I need to be physically at this home on Fruitridge to see if I can either explain the activity as something natural or to discover if there really is paranormal activity going on in this home. I anxiously await for Catherine's ex-boyfriend to call me and set things up for an investigation and cleansing.

The Red-Faced Demon is interesting, because when my wife Deanna and I, went to Guatemala and El Salvador we went to a restaurant in El Salvador that was being haunted by a demonic force. Kitchen utensils were sometimes thrown on the floor, a kitchen knife was thrown at a waiter. Thumping noises were heard on the walls of the restaurant. I was told that the previous owner had committed suicide by hanging and that he still haunts the restaurant and that he also brought a demon with him. The waitress showed us a photo of a red-faced demon on a kitchen apron. The red-faced demon's face was very distinct and it appeared it was created by tomato sauce. I asked to see the apron and the waitress said that the apron mysteriously caught fire and was destroyed.

As for the Fruitridge Poltergeist causing one wall to catch on fire is not unheard of. Here are 3 cases in which a poltergeist may have caused a fire.

Location: Battersea - London. The Hitchings family was terrorized for a period of 4 months. There was an outbreak of fires throughout their house. They heard tapping and thumping noises on the walls. They felt ghostly fingers tugging on their clothing. A disturbing aspect of this haunting is that the poltergeist was focused on their 15-year-old daughter Shirley. Terrible things happened to Shirley. Shirley's bed mysteriously caught on fire. The poltergeist dropped clothes on an electric cooker and turned on the cooker. The interesting thing is that the cooker had no immediate power, but somehow it was turned on and working again. They named the poltergeist "Donald". Donald stalked Shirley and would follow her to work and scare her co-workers.

The residents of the village of Yenakievo in the Ukraine became frightened of a young boy, identified only as Sasha K. Strange phenomena had begun occurring around him, including several spontaneous fires, exploding lightbulbs, and even a refrigerator turning itself upside-down. This poltergeist was nicknamed the Saska K Poltergeist. When my half-brother Andrew Somprise Soyo visited the Ukraine, he heard about this story from Daryna, a lady he was dating. Daryna told Andy that when she was 14 years old she had her own poltergeist. Daryna's mother was terrorized by Daryna's poltergeist, because once it slapped Daryna's mother in the face. Another time it threw a broom at her. Daryna's mother was terrorized for 6 months and then everything stopped and went back to normal.

Long-time residents of Tarpon Springs—believed to be in one of the most haunted places of Florida—claimed every year that when the wind came from the south, fires would start in the same wooded area. Fires, they claimed, set by a poltergeist. In 1952, the “ghost fire” destroyed 2,000 acres of woodland between the community and the Gulf of Mexico, and hundreds of citizens joined fire-fighting volunteers to prevent the blaze from destroying their homes. Fire investigators preferred to place the blame on an arsonist, though no evidence was ever found, and the fire’s origin remains a mystery. When I worked for the California Division of Forestry in 1977 as a firefighter, I heard a few stories in which the locals believed a ghost had caused certain fires. So, I was not surprised to learn about the Tarpon Springs Fire Poltergeist.

Catherine DeFazio says:

I feel like there's five entities haunting my ex-boyfriend's house. The red-faced demon in the photo is being directed by two elderly females. I feel like the burn thing on the wall is a warning saying something is about to happen within 16 months and it will be deadly.

I feel like the nail gun was a sign of strength shown by the ghost. I've never told anyone this. I have never stepped foot in this house. I refused. A spirit stops me at the door, and I listen and obey.

Special Note:
Poltergeist activity is usually caused by a child going through puberty. That child exerts a strong amount of energy that can cause cabinets to open and close, strange knocking sounds and all types of other malicious activity. Poltergeist basically means a noisy spirit.

Now let's get to the story. You are probably wondering why I didn't go. Well, let's say I can't be everywhere and luckily for me, I have very dedicated investigators that don't wait around for an investigation and will take the initiation to go out and investigate for themselves. Ryan was very good in giving me a blow-by-blow report on the investigation through Facebook messenger. Ryan provided many videos of the investigation and with my communication with Ryan, I was virtually there with them, experiencing everything they were experiencing. You can see some of those videos at Ryan's Youtube Channel. See links below:

Bodie Hotel Investigation

Mike and Ryan obtained many EVPs at all of the locations that they investigated. When people say these hotels are hunted, they are not whistling dixie. Let's look into the history of the Mizpah Hotel and see why it may be haunted. The Mizpah Hotel saloon open in 1907 and the hotel opened soon after. The hotel was also a part-time brothel and a prostitute named Rose worked her suite on the 5th floor. Unfortunately for Rose is that she had a jealous lover stalking her and when he discovered she was sleeping around for money, he came into her suite and strangled and stabbed her to death. Many locals and guests at the hotel have encountered Rose. Rose as a ghost is now known at the Lady in Red, she is seen wearing a red dress. Her ghost can be a combination of residual energy and intelligent energy. When Rose was alive, they say that she was very sweet and kind and she was known to be generous. There are reports where guests have seen her walking the hallway and she is looking straight ahead and does not notice the guest. I believe this to be residual energy. Other reports from guests are saying that they have a verbal interaction with her. I would say that is intelligent energy.

MITZPAH HOTEL TOMMYKNOCKERS
Legend has it that male guests have heard the Lady in Red whisper sweet nothings in their ears. This happens a lot in the elevator that goes from the lobby to her suite. Some male guests have found a pearl underneath their pillow. The pearls are believed to be a necklace that she once wore, and the necklace was destroyed when her ex-lover strangled her. The Lady in Red would be in control of 3 rooms on the 5th floor, they are 502, 503 and 504. These 3 rooms are said to be very haunted, and the owners of this hotel, have made Room 504 as the official Lady in Red room. Other ghosts in the Mizpah are 2 miners who died a tragic death at the Tonopah Mine. Legend has it that they died in the mine from a cave-in and now haunt the hotel, because they loved being at this hotel. The Mitzpah Hotel Tommyknockers also enjoy pounding on walls and rocks, as if they are still working in the mines.

THE CLOWN MOTEL
The next place we can talk about is the Clown Motel. The Clown Motel opened up in 1985. Sister and brother Leona and Leroy David built this motel in memory of their father, Clarence David. Clarence was obsessed with clowns and collected any kind of clown doll or figurine that he could find. He had a collection of 150 clowns in his home. Now that Travel Channel's Ghost Adventures has been there, there are hundreds of people donating their clowns to the motel. Next door to the motel is the Tonopah cemetery and legend has it that this motel is haunted. I heard about this hotel a long time ago. My half-brother Joseph (Joe) Anthony Soyo with some of his college buddies has stayed in this motel. They spent the night at the motel and the next morning headed over to Las Vegas for gambling and enjoying Vegas night life entertainment. Joe did tell me while he was at the Clown Motel, he did see 3 dolls that moved their heads on their own. Joe's college friend Keith claimed he saw moving shadows in his room and one of the shadows slipped underneath his bed. His bed also shook when the shadow entity slid underneath his bed.

TONOPAH PLAGUE DOCTOR
I believe the whole town of Tonopah is haunted. In 1907 they had the Tonopah Plague that killed many and a ghostly plague doctor has been seen walking around by the cemetery. Tonopah is a legendary town and with legends there are stories that fall into the gray area. Case in point, it is said that Wyatt Earp was a Tonopah saloon keeper. Wyatt left Tonopah before the saloon was built. It is said that Jack Dempsey was a bouncer in the saloon. Jack says he has never been to Tonopah. It is said that Howard Hughes proposed to Jean Peters at the Mitzpah Hotel. In reality Howard did propose to Jean, but not in the Mitzpah Hotel, he proposed to her in the streets of Tonopah.

Now let's talk about the final hotel. The Bodie Hotel. Let me tell you anything near the ghost town of Bodie is extremely haunted. I once investigated the town of Bodie and you can see my findings at the link below: www.costaricantimes.com/bodies-kate-minus-two-derringer/51126

LOLA OF THE BODIE HOTEL
When Mike and Ryan investigated the Bodie Hotel, they obtained many EVPs. There was a time when Mike became very emotional during the investigation, when the entities were centering themselves around Mike. There was a ghost hunting group that investigated the Bodie Hotel and they heard footsteps and people talking at the floor above them. This ghost hunting group first thought the hotel had phroggers, but when they went up to that floor, there was no one there. This ghost hunting group also acquired many EVPs. Darren Linden from Lake Tahoe, CA says that when he stayed at the Bodie Hotel, he came across a ghostly red-haired little girl running down the hallway and vanished into the wall. Darren's wife claimed to have seen the little girl and the little girl said: "Hi, my name is Lola". Lola the red-haired ghost then turned around and walked away. Darren's wife just thought that Lola was a guest of the hotel and that her parents were nearby. She didn't think nothing of it.

HISTORY OF THE BODIE HOTEL
A quick history lesson about the Bodie Hotel. The hotel was built in 1880. The hotel before it was a hotel, was also used as a brothel and boarding house. They moved the hotel from Bodie, CA to Bridgeport, CA in 1920. 400 people live in the town of Bridgeport.

FINAL CLOSE-OFF:
Mike and Ryan had a very memorable investigation and I can only thank them for sharing their story with the world and allowing me to be virtually with them during their investigation.

When I was stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky, I went on an R&R trip with 3 of my Army friends. We headed over to Tennessee. Being single soldiers, we were meeting up with 4 girls in Nashville. Before the "partying", we drove by Brushy Mountain State Penitentiary, a place I wanted to check out. This notorious prison was once the home for the infamous James Earl Ray. James Earl Ray was the assassin of Martin Luther King. While James was doing his time at this prison, he escaped with 6 other inmates. His freedom was short lived, thank goodness. They captured him after 54 hours. In 1982, this prison was an active prison. I was only able to see the prison as I drove by it. I was very curious about the history of this prison. It was established in 1896 and in the 1930s, it housed 976 prisoners. Many of these prisoners were forced to work in the mines. The prisoners if they got out of line, were tortured via flogging. The prisoners were brutalized by the guards and many prisoners died at the hands of the guards. As a young soldier, I wondered how haunted this prison was. The prison closed on June 11, 2009.

For over a hundred years, Brushy Mountain was a functional prison. In fact, it was Tennessee's first maximum security prison. In the 1800s, prisoners were forced to work in mines, violence at times erupted in the mines, where prisoners fought against other prisoners. These brutal fights would lead to serious injuries or death. A ghost hunting group called Amy's Crypt did a full investigation of this prison and collected a lot of evidence. They discuss on their youtube channel on how some tourists have been choked and scratched by unseen entities. People have heard vicious growls coming from some of the cells and some visitors have even seen entities who crawl along the floor. This prison has two nicknames. The first nickname is "The End of the Line" and the second nickname is "The Gates of Hell". Ghost hunting enthusiasts mention that an aerial view of the prison, you will see an inverted cross. They also mention that while investigating, they have heard men screaming, the sounds of flogging, gurgling sounds and of course the growling noises.

Brushy Mountain Prison is now shut down, but has opened its gates to tourists and ghost hunting enthusiasts. You have prison tours, a distillery, gift shop, paranormal tours, concerts and other events. Duc Duong, a former soldier I used to work with lives in Tennessee and has been on their paranormal tour. Duc says that when he went on the tour, he broke away from the group and had a terrifying experience. Duc says that he was pushed by an unseen force and was face down on the ground. He felt slime all around him and looked at his hands, and it was covered in brown filth. The brown filth Duc says looked like human feces. Duc started screaming and Duc's wife ran over to him, only to see Duc on the ground. Duc then noticed that there was nothing on his hands and he was simply on hard cement, there was no feces. Duc says somehow, he imagined the feces and for Duc this was a horrifying experience that he does not want to relive. When Duc explained this to me, I wonder if this was some type of paranormal event that was able to show Duc something that happened many years ago in this prison. Duc tells me that he has no desire to ever return to this prison and that this prison is truly the "Gates of Hell".

Year: 1974. When I was stationed in Germany at Merrill Barracks in Nurnberg, Germany, I had a Sergeant Major that thought the world of me. To this day, I could never understand why he liked me so much. At one time, he had me as his personal driver. He didn't like the way I drove his jeep and fired me as the Sergeant Major Driver. There was a time, that the Sergeant Major took me and a few other soldiers to the Swiss Alps and I had a soldier take a picture of me with the Sergeant Major. Come to find out, the Sergeant Major had that photo displayed on his desk. Perhaps, he thought of me like a long-lost son. One of the best things the Sergeant Major did for me was asked if I wanted to ride along with him to Bologna, Italy. The Sergeant Major's wife ran a restaurant in Bologna. Here was my chance to go to Italy for free. Of course, I accepted. When we got to Bologna and met the Sergeant Major's wife, she prepared a big bowl of spaghetti, all the bread I wanted to eat and a glass of wine. Come to find out, the patrons of her restaurant only spent the equivalent of 29 cents for a bowl of spaghetti. I am not sure how much Lira that would be, but I do know that bowl of spaghetti was cheap and delicious. After this dinner, I was on my own. I found a night club called "The Dome" and being a single guy, this was the place to party at. It was customary for the first few songs, that the women would go on the dance floor and dance with each other. The men would stand around the dance floor and if a girl smiled at you, you could go down on the dance floor and dance with her. By the 2nd song, an Italian girl smiled at me, and we danced the night away. Of course, I couldn't speak a word of Italian. I had two Air Force guys help me to translate and before I knew it, I had 3 new friends, the 2 Air Force guys and the Italian girl. During our conversation, I mentioned since I was in Northern Italy, I wanted to see Torrechiara Castle. The Italian girl said she would only be too happy to take the 3 of us tomorrow and that it was a 1.0 hour and 30 minutes away from the city of Bologna. In 1974, I wasn't a paranormal investigator yet, but I sure was interested in the paranormal and I heard that this castle was very haunted.

The next day, the 4 of us headed out. Made some nice stops along the way, including having a nice Italian lunch. When we arrived at Torrechiara Castle, I marveled at the castle's beauty and architect. The castle looked majestic on the hilltop and somewhat foreboding. Our tour guide gave us a nice run down of the history of this castle. He told us about the romance between the noble/Count Pier Maria Rossi and the gorgeous Bianca Pellegrini. Special Note: At one time, I worked under a manager named Debbie Pellegrini at the California Department of Health Services and our tour guide told us that all Pellegrini(s) are related under one house. The tour guide also explained that the Count is seen walking on the Rio delle Favole, which is a road leading to the entrance of the castle. The tour guide says that a tourist was walking on this road and heard the disembodied voice of a woman saying: "nunc et semper", which means "now and forever."

The love of the Count and Bianca was so strong, that in the Golden Room of this castle, which was built in 1448 thru 1462, frescoed on the ribbon binding the interweaved hearts bearing Bianca and Pier Maria initials. Bianca is also seen wandering around the castle hallways and she is known to tap on tourist's shoulders. A woman tourist once saw Bianca standing behind her as she gazed into a mirror.

Pier Maria Rossi is known as The Magnificent, he was a condottiere which is equivalent to a Captain. He was also a Count of nearby San Secondo. The Count oversaw and fought alongside the Sforza during their local battles for power when the Parma area was under the authority of the Duchy of Milan. The tour guide said at times you will hear the sounds of battle. The tour guide believes that these were ghostly soldiers that continue to fight over territory and power. The Torrechiara Castle was built for one person and that person is Biana, according to the Count. Castle Torrechiara's named derives from the word "torchio" which means the machine that presses grapes and olives. The land where the castle stands is known for winemaking and the production of olive oil from there many olive trees.

There are two other ghostly sightings at this castle. Hunters near the Parma area have seen the animal spirits of 3 wolves and a Marsican Brown Bear. Two hunters walking in the Parma area heard rustling in the nearby bushes. To their surprise they saw the large bear side-by-side with 3 wolves. The bear and 3 wolves acted like they were going to attack. The hunters steadied their rifles only to see the bear and 3 wolves vanish before their eyes. The tour guide said on one particular night he was walking down the hallway and saw 3 children running down the hallway laughing and skipping. As he approached the kids to see why they were in the castle after closing hours, the 3 kids walked through a door and vanished. The kids were wearing renaissance type of clothing. The tour guide believes that these may be the Count's ghostly children. I asked the tour guide if he thought the castle was haunted by anything evil. The tour guide said that he felt the spirits of this castle were very happy and that the Count and Bianca's love is immortal and continues into the afterlife.

HPI UPDATE:
11/8/2022: Case #20B9561K0286. Lincoln Sievers, a college student at San Joaquin Delta College in Stockton is investigating reports that Delta College is haunted. Many students feel that there is ghostly activity at this college and wanted to know what I knew about the haunting activity. I heard rumors that the college was haunted, but I have never confirmed it. Lincoln will be writing a report on Delta College.

During my lifetime I came across many celebrities. More by accident than on purpose. I want to name a few that I met and explain to you how I met them. Let's start off with Edward James Olmos. As a government worker, he was involved with a function at my government office (Secretary of State) and I saw him walking on the sidewalk, along the building and I stopped him for a picture with my co-worker (Kendra Larry). Real nice guy.

Hopalong Cassidy. When I was a small boy living in Fresno, my dad took me to a parade. We came across Hopalong and he picked me up in the air and said I was a good-looking boy. Arnold Schwarzenegger. I first saw Arnold filming a movie at the Mayfair Hotel in Los Angeles, he was filming True Lies. His stunt double was on a horse and the horse collapsed and slid on the carpet. The horse slid so hard, some of his thigh leg skin peeled off. Later I met Arnold when he became Governor of California and I shook his hand and came across him 3 more times. One time saw him in the basement (Secretary of State) with his security guards and he stared right at me. Ted Nugent. Met Ted when he was sitting in my Branch Chief's office (James Fong, Branch Manager - LRB - License Revenue Branch - California Department of Fish and Wildlife) getting his hunting license. Shook hands with Ted, nice guy. Took a picture of Ted next to my employee Nicole Stowe.

I never met Barbi Benton, but my dad did. He used to work in the same government building (Employment Development Department - EDD) as Barbi and one day he asked Barbi: "Barbi, since you are Hugh Hefner's girlfriend, when are you going to quit your State job?" Barbi said: "Not yet, but getting close." While Arnold was governor, I rode the elevator once with his wife Maria Shriver, nice lady.

I saw Leonard Padilla, Bounty Hunter in action with his men as they were trying to apprehend a criminal at a State (Secretary of State) building. When I lived in Citrus Heights, Tony "The Tiger" Lopez was dating my roommate, so I met him a couple of times. I met Edwin Meese's brother, who worked at a government building (EDD) that I worked in. While walking near K Street Mall in Sacramento, a limo pulled up to the red light and in the back seat, window rolled down was Dick Cheney. Dick looked at me and smiled.

At a nightclub in Citrus Heights called Bobby McGee's I made eye contact with Mad Dog Buzz Sawyer, a wrestler. Buzz Sawyer was focused on me and I was focused on him. I walked up to him and told him I would watch him wrestle on TV, when I was stationed in the Southern States. We talked and became friends. Buzz on one night at this club, lifted me up and carried me all around the night club. I asked Buzz to please, put me down, it was embarrassing. While working at Harrah's Tahoe, met Cher and shook her hand, I was living and working with Jeff Kutache's Dancing Machine. Cher was very nice and polite. At Hilton's Tahoe, met up with Bill Cosby and the Allman Brothers. My most memorable encounter was with Erin Moran as she was playing the slot machines. She asked me what slot machine was hot for winners. I pointed out a couple, she lost her money and she looked at me and said…"you liar!"

While I lived in Palm Springs for a while, I went to a night club and Dennis Farina sat next to me. Dennis was not a star yet and I told Dennis that I was applying for movie roles in Los Angeles and that I had the Guinness Book of World Records for Disco Dancing, in which I danced for 205 hours. I was sort of bragging and Dennis looked at me and said: “It looks like you have a foothold in the entertainment business, looks like you will make it!” Dennis said he was trying to break into the business too. Well, I never made it in Hollywood, but Dennis did. A few years later, I was watching Dennis on TV playing one of the Hillside Stranglers! Dennis who wasn’t a braggart makes it in the business and I didn’t. Oh well, serves me right. Well, that is some of the encounters I had with various celebrities during my lifetime.

INITIAL REPORT:

Date to be there: November 12, 2022, Saturday. Time to be there: 3pm. Address to be at: XXXX Burns Way, Sacramento, CA. Contact: Kim, Catherine Defazio, Craig. Case #: 9B166199S052916V8213Z237. Activity: Orb caught on security camera dancing on Craig's car. I watched the video, and it looked like a dancing orb, dancing all around his vehicle. Poltergeist activity caught on security camera, box tossed to the side and there was no wind outside to make the box fall over and tumble. Nail gun topples over in the garage, there was no one around to push the nail gun. The nail gun incident was also caught on security camera.

Deanna Jaxine Stinson aka Wish Fire, Psychic Medium did a walk through and felt something underneath the backyard. Craig was astonished, because there was something underneath the backyard. A long time ago, there was a crawdad type of factory on the property, and they kept crawdads in storage underneath the ground. Wish Fire also detected a coyote spirit in the backyard and the interesting thing about this was there was a coyote fur skin hanging in one of the bedrooms. Wish Fire also detected a little girl spirit in one of the bedrooms and in the corner of my eye, I saw what looked like a little girl in a fluffy blue dress. It was there for one second and then gone. After Wish Fire did her walk through, I started an EVP Sweep. An EVP Sweep is going into each room and doing multiple EVP sessions in each room. The bedroom where I saw the little girl in a blue dress, I was able to obtain an EVP of a little girl asking for her mommy and saying something about "outside". Craig and Kim always felt there was a little girl in that bedroom and Wish Fire and I, confirmed it. Wish Fire felt all kinds of spirit activity in this 1950 home. Wish Fire did not feel that any of the entities in the home were harmful and felt that Craig had a protective spirit around him. Wish Fire felt the poltergeist activity originates in the backyard and had me do a Roman Catholic blessing in the backyard.

Special Note: On this investigation, we brought our two dogs Story and Champagne. On the last investigation, they started barking at the house, when we were first arriving. That house had demonic activity. With the house today, they did not bark and it's probably because the spirits at this house are benevolent. The dogs only get excited and start barking, when the activity is malevolent. Story and Champagne are HPI's Canine Paranormal Investigators.

Dogman at the Ciudad Juarez / El Paso, Texas Border

Now, you are probably wondering how I learned that there was a Dogman sighting on the Ciudad Juarez / El Paso, Texas border. Well, it was from a simple conversation with a United States Border Patrol agent. I am now retired from the California Department of Fish and Wildlife, and I am now able to talk about these things. My titles at the California Department of Fish and Wildlife were Supervising Program Technician III and LRB (License and Revenue Branch) Custodian of Records. As the Custodian of Records, I was responsible in providing confidential documents to law enforcement officers throughout the USA and sometimes International. Some of these confidential documents would be sent off to judges and prosecuting attorneys. I would handle all of the subpoenas that would come into the office. The copies I would send off were stamped as "true copies" and signed by me. One day, I received a call from a US Border Agent, and he needed confidential documents on a California hunter. The US Border Agent had to testify in court and needed the documents as back up to his case. When the US Border Agent called, we had a pleasant conversation. The US Border Agent was looking forward to his weekend off and casually asked me what I was doing for my weekend off. I told the agent I had a paranormal investigation to conduct. This peaked the agent's curiosity, and he asked me about my investigation. This triggered the agent to tell me his story of working the border at Ciudad Juarez / El Paso, Texas and experiencing something of high strangeness.

THE STORY:

Before we got to the agent's story, we discussed how Ciudad Juarez is the femicide capital of the world. So many women are found dead and at one point of time Ciudad Juarez didn't have enough ambulances to pick up all of the dead bodies. We pondered if Ciudad Juarez was the home of many serial killers. The agent told me that up to 370 women have been killed in Juarez from 1993 to 2005. The agent says that while patrolling the border, he has seen ghosts and once even seen a full body apparition of a woman. The agent believes that the ghost he saw was a murder victim. He says that the border between Juarez and El Paso is very haunted. The agent also told me he came across a so-called Chupacabra and realized it was a coyote with mange. The agent believes that all of the Chupacabra sightings are coyotes with mange, he does not feel there is anything supernatural with those sightings. But the strangest thing he saw was a Mexican immigrant running from a van on the Mexico side and heading into the US side of the border. The agent had his eye on the driver of the van. The driver was a pollero aka coyote, which basically means a human smuggler. As the van turned around and took off, the agent then concentrated on the Mexican immigrant trying to cross the border. As the immigrant got to the 18-foot fence, the immigrant changed into a hairy type of humanoid, his face looked more like a dog. The agent could not believe his eyes as he was telling the man to stop where he was. Then all of a sudden, the man who now looks like a bipedal dog, leapt over this 18-foot fence. When the creature/man lands on the US side, he ran off on all fours, like a dog. The agent could not believe what he saw and never discussed it with his colleagues, because he did not want to be ridiculed. The agent felt comfortable in telling me, because I deal with the paranormal and have an open mind when I hear stories like this. I promised the agent I would never reveal his name, if I ever wrote about this when I retire and I will keep that promise. The agent believes he saw a man transform into the Dogman and I only wonder if this Dogman was one of the femicide serial killers of Juarez?

HPI INVESTIGATORS ROLL CALL:
Legend: NR - New Recruits
We had 8 investigators at this investigation, including myself. They were: Alaceo "Big Al" Rosatano - Lead Investigator; Paul Dale Roberts - HPI Co-Owner; Catherine "Cat" Defazio & her girlfriend also named "Cat" - NR; Logan and his girlfriend - NR; Lincoln Sievers - NR; Leanne Shriver Leighty - Senior Investigator.

Special Note:
Lincoln Sievers is a college student and is writing a report on the paranormal.

THE INVESTIGATION:
This was a large home in Roseville. Lots of area to cover. We had a briefing with Man. Man explained to us, he had paranormal issues a long time ago. His personal life was filled with sorrow and anger and there were times that he tried to commit suicide. Man feels he has an attachment. Catherine Defazio committed herself to counseling Man and his family and provided information to them on how to brighten up their household, to make things better for the family in whole. Big Al, Leanne and myself did a sweep of the whole home, going room-to-room attempting to get EVPs. We were unsuccessful in obtaining any EVPs. This does not mean that there is nothing haunting the home or attached to Man, it could be that the entity or entities are simply hiding from us. We were not able to take any photos to see if there were any anomalies in our photos. Man's father would not allow any photos in this home, but I was able to interview Man on video. See video footage at the beginning of this article. After our investigation was over, Man treated us to Little Caesars vegetarian pizza and cheese pizza, with orange Tang to chase it down. Thank you, Man and family for providing us with pizza.

THE CLEANSING:
I gave Man a full submersion baptism in his bathtub. Man said he felt much better after the baptism. I also conducted a Roman Catholic house blessing with Man. I pray that this family finds the peace that is needed.

Film Footage of the Haunting Activity at East Street Classics & Wraps:
www.youtube.com/watch?v=7JQBfGBhcPE

11/21/2022: Today, a gentleman named Juan Ayon and his partner Steve Botello contacted me about their workshop called "East Street Classics & Wraps". Website: www.dmiwraps.com/
Case # 5A308C4847R17 - Juan believes there is a spiritual war going on in Woodland, CA.

Juan explained to me that he owns East Street Classics & Wraps and is having all kinds of paranormal experiences at this shop. At times, a strange mist or fog rolls in and the fog acts like it has intelligent movement as it circles around his shop and even at times enters his shop. There have been times in which Juan and his friends and family have seen entities inside the fog. Entities and orb like phenomena have been seen in the trees. On one particular day a strange ray of light came from the sky and engulfed the shop. Ray has heard disembodied voices in the shop and at times will talk to the entity and the entity will obey Juan's commands. Juan may tell the entity that if he is good, he can stick around, and the entity will actually settle down. Juan's security cameras have captured a lot of the paranormal activity at his shop.

Juan says in his own words - Note: I minimized the paragraphs for better clarity:
"The entity showed himself to me, right in my shop and I yelled at him to get the fxxx out of my shop about 100 times.

When the entity stood up, he was in front of my ex-girlfriend and he snarled at me. He was red and I could see right through him. His eyes didn't lift up I could see his whole body, also his face. He was at least 6 to 7 ft tall. He snarled at me. I couldn't understand what I saw and it caused drama between me and my ex-girlfriend. I could hear the entity talking and I was also able to see the entity jump from body-to-body."

East Street Classics & Wraps is just one more place that is considered haunted on Main Street. Tourists and locals have talked about ghosts and spirits haunting Woodland, CA and especially on Main Street. The talk of ghosts in Woodland, CA has been going on for over 200 years. According to the Sacramento Bee, a devastating fire took out most of the buildings on Main Street between 1st and 2nd Street during the year 1892. I have conducted many paranormal investigations at private residences in Woodland and I also have investigated the following public places in Woodland:

1. Snowball Mansion:
The Snowball Mansion is haunted by Lucy Snowball, she is seen roaming the hallways and at times feeding her baby. In 1877, John Wells Snowball, an English businessman, constructed a gorgeous mansion for his new bride named Lucy Ann Knight. Lucy was the daughter of William Knight who founded Knights Landing. John became rich working as a merchant. John opened his first store in Knights Landing, after a previous store burned to the ground. John was also a gold miner in 1850 and he became the Associate Justice of the Court of Sessions and land investor. He married Lucy in 1853 and their romantic journey began. The journey was short lived as tragedy was on the horizon. It is believed the mansion is haunted by the spirit of Lucy Snowball who aimlessly roams the hallways. Windows rattle from room to room. Cold chills are felt. Locals have said that the lights turn on and off, on their own accord. Lucy is known to awaken guests. One former B & B guest saw her walk through the wall where the door to the nursery once was. Some have even seen her attending to a ghostly child. When I investigated Snowball Mansion, I was able to obtain an EVP of a woman crying.

2. Porter Building:
See my paranormal investigation write-up on the Porter Building at the link below:
www.costaricantimes.com/haunted-porter-building-woodland-ca/70765

3. The Woodland Opera House:
William Porter was a volunteer fireman who died fighting a fire in Woodland, Ca. One of his favorite places to go was the Woodland Opera House and many ghost hunters, locals and tourists have made claim that they have seen the full body apparition of William Porter roaming around the Opera House. People have seen full body apparitions of other ghosts that haunt the theater. People have complained about odd smells and mysterious sounds, like glass breaking or doors slamming. When I investigated the Opera House, our EMF reader was going like crazy on this one particular seat and I obtained an EVP at that seat, in which a male voice says: "Are you looking at me?" Another HPI investigator felt cold chills as they entered a private room. Another investigator felt a hand caress her face. Two investigators saw a man and woman apparition sitting in the back row and as they approached, the ghostly couple vanished. A ghost hunter from another group says he came across a man sitting in a middle seat and he had an unusual "long jaw" and disappeared as soon as he got close to the apparition. This ghost hunter nicknamed the ghost as "Long Jaw" and plans to seek him out again.

4. Yolo County Courthouse:
At the Yolo County Courthouse HPI obtained an EVP of a grumpy sounding man saying: "Move along now!" One of my female investigators says that her hair was stroked by an unseen force.

So, as you can see Woodland, CA is very haunted, and a lot of the activity is right on Main Street!

PARANORMAL HOTLINE CALL:

Date: 11/23/2022. Time: 1500 PST. Received a call from Joshua Diamond from Tacoma, Washington. Joshua says that his grandfather (now deceased) told him a story when he was 19 years old. Joshua's grandfather said that back in 1884, a warlock that called himself The Darkness, lined up 15 witches. All 15 witches had to give their body to The Darkness. The Darkness proceeded to have sex with each one, going from one witch to another. The witch that would receive his "seed" would be the chosen one. The Darkness went from one witch to another and would only be with each one for a short period of time, before moving onto another witch. As the Darkness was going for the 2nd round, he stopped at the 8th witch and delivered his "seed". The witch that received his seed was Demonis. The Darkness after delivering his seed, was handed a sacrificial knife from the high priestess and proceeded to deliver a major stab wound to the heart of Demonis. Demonis was sacrificed by The Darkness. The Darkness believed he had overwhelming power, that was delivered to him by the minions of Hell. The Darkness fell victim to a streetcar accident on July 4, 1900. Joshua Diamond claims that the spirits of The Darkness and Demonis haunt areas of Tacoma and Joshua believes he has seen their ghosts on a dark street in Tacoma. Joshua went home and found 3 large claw marks on his stomach area. I explained to Joshua that he needs to get a full submersion baptism as quickly as possible, or misfortune will follow him. Joshua is going to follow my advice.

Haunted Chateau de Chillon - Switzerland

One of the main reasons why I joined the Army was to see the world. When the Army asked me where I wanted to be assigned, I always told the recruiter..."send me overseas!" When I was stationed in Nurnberg, Germany, there were so many nearby countries to visit and I was able to see these countries on cheap military discounts. One of the places that was on my bucket list was to see the Chateau de Chillon in Switzerland. This gorgeous fortress was built on the island of Chillon. The Chateau was built as a strategic military site, since the time of the Romans. The fortress was used as a Roman outpost and in the 9th century a Roman tower was built at the fortress. The Romans knew the value of the fortress, because it overlooked the important St. Bernard Pass which could take you to Germany and France from the North and Italy to the South. Many battles were fought at this outpost. The fortress may be beautiful to behold, but it has a very dark past. Some of the residents that lived in the Chateau were Thomas I of Savoy and Charles III of Savoy. The Chateau was at one point of history, used as a prison. In the dungeons there were many hangings of political foes. In 1342 the area was inflicted with the Black Death. Many people died from this epidemic. In 1382 a very cruel and vicious tyrant lived in this fortress, his name is Sir Raoul de Monthenard nicknamed "The Breaker". This guy was so evil that he kidnapped a married woman named Erdelinde and discovered she had a baby with her husband. Monthenard was so furious that she had a baby, that he threw the baby out the chapel window into the lake below. Erdelinde was in shock and ran after the baby. She jumped out of the chapel window to retrieve the baby, while doing so she dropped into the lake and drowned with the baby. With so many deaths at this fortress, you would think it was the end of it, but on September 26, 1613, 27 witches were executed.

There are two things I like. I love history and I love the paranormal. This fortress had it all. I hear now that they have escorted ghost hunts at the Chateau. I wish they had that in 1975 when I visited, but our tour guide was pretty thorough. He provided the history and of course, I was asking about the "haunts". According to the tour guide, he has heard screaming coming out of the fortress late at night. Other locals have heard blood curdling screaming also. Locals and tourists have made claim that they have seen Erdelinde's ghost walking near the lake and actually in the lake looking for her baby. The tour guide said he once heard a woman crying at the lake. When the tour guide went to the area where he heard the crying, the crying stopped and there was no one at that area. Sir Raoul de Monthenard is sometimes seen roaming the hallways. A tourist was terrified when seeing Monthenard, because he had a maniacal look on his face and a warped evil smile on his face. Locals and tourists have told the tour guide that they have been touched, heard strange whispers and heavy footsteps throughout the fortress. A lady tourist claimed she was pushed into a wall and a male tourist claimed his beard was yanked violently by an unseen force. Moaning has been heard in the dungeons. When I was walking around the fortress, I felt a feeling of dread. I am not a psychic, but I felt the negativity in the air of this fortress. I felt relieved when I was finally back outside and a lady tourist next to me said that she was creeped out while inside the fortress. The tour guide said there is another ghost that he actually encountered, that he calls "The Man in Rags". The Man in Rags came out of a wall and his clothes were literally in rags. The tour guide said he had his mouth wide open and saliva was dripping from his mouth and there was blood everywhere on his body. The tour guide said when he saw this apparition, he almost quit. The apparition appeared only once and for a short time. The tour guide said a maintenance worker once encountered The Man in Rags and quit his job immediately, it was too much for him.

While I was at the fortress, I didn't run into any ghosts, but I sure felt the depression in various areas of the Chateau. Towards the dungeon area, it felt sad. Like I said previously, I was happy to go outside and that the tour ended.

THE FIRST REPORT:

Date: November 23, 2022. Received a phone call from Marina and David of Rancho Cordova. Marina explains to me that for the last 6 months, she has been experiencing paranormal activity in her apartment. Marina and David tried to ignore it, but things have gotten worse and they want an investigation and cleansing. Marina asked if I could meet them at a Starbucks and perhaps after I heard their full story, I would conduct the investigation and cleansing after the meeting. Marina also asked that I don't bring a lot of people to her apartment, because it's a small apartment. The living room and kitchen are one room. She has one bedroom and one bathroom. I usually do not investigate a place by myself, but talking with Marina and David over the phone, they sounded sincere. I told Marina and David I would meet with them on November 27, 2022, Saturday at 1500 hours.

THE MEETING:

I arrived a little bit early. I surveyed the crowd to see if I could spot out Marina and David. Marina and David entered Starbucks at 1507 Hours, just a tad late. When I saw them enter Starbucks, I knew it was Marina and David. I went over and introduced myself and brought them to my table. After Marina ordered coffee for David and herself, Marina started with her story. Marina and David said that all hours of the night, almost every night, they hear someone in their bathroom brushing their teeth. It will happen sometimes at 2am and sometimes as late as 3am. When they go to the bathroom to investigate, the brushing teeth noise stops. One night Marina was awakened by the brushing teeth noise and jumped out of bed and ran to the bathroom and saw an apparition of a man brushing his teeth and his gums were bleeding profusely. Marina screamed in horror, she couldn't believe what she was seeing. David heard Marina screaming and jumped out of bed and ran to the bathroom and the apparition had already vanished. On another night, David had to work late, and Marina was at the apartment by herself watching TV and then she heard the sound of someone brushing their teeth. Marina looked behind her and it was the man that she saw previously brushing her teeth, watching her with blood dripping from his mouth. Marina screamed at the top of her lungs and managed to get on the phone with David and told him to get home immediately. David rushed home and there was no more paranormal activity that night. The next day, Marina started talking with her neighbors. Marina started her own investigation. Marina discovered that one time there was a man that lived in her apartment named Tommy. Tommy was a maintenance man. The neighbor told Marina that Tommy did one time complain about having 2 loose teeth and that he didn't have the money to go to a dentist. Tommy would say he was in pain a lot. The neighbor told Marina that Tommy found out he had colon cancer and died in the apartment, he was in his mid-50s. The neighbor said he was somewhat of a loner and didn't socialize that much with the neighbors. One neighbor said that they thought Tommy was "weird". The event that was the straw that broke the camel's back is when Marina was taking a shower and noticed that there were two large handprints on the transparent glass shower door. Marina felt Tommy was watching her as she showered. This was enough for Marina and that is when she decided to call me.

THE INVESTIGATION:
After the Starbucks meeting, I told Marina and David..."let's go". When I got to the apartment, I did what I call an "EVP sweep". I would go into the bedroom, living room and bathroom and conduct about 6 EVP sessions in each room. While in the bathroom, the 4th EVP session was a success, I actually got an EVP of what sounds like someone brushing their teeth. When this was happening my EMF teddy bear started buzzing. I did not get any disembodied voices on my digital recorder, only the brushing sound EVP. Marina and David verified that the brushing sound was the sound they would hear in their apartment. After my investigation was over, I conducted a Roman Catholic house blessing.

THE FOLLOW-UP:
Date: November 27, 2022, Saturday. Talked with Marina and David on the phone and Marina is very happy with the cleansing. Marina and David said that they have been sleeping well at night, there are no intrusive noises heard in the middle of the night. They said they feel Tommy is gone, that he went into the light after my cleansing. Marina and David couldn't thank me enough. I was very pleased with the outcome. Tommy Toothbrush, as I call him...is finally gone.

Hello Paul, it’s been a long time. I wanted to thank you and your wife for saving my life all those years ago.
After that out of this world experience it turned my entire life around and made me the person I am today.
Far cry from that petrified woman that was on the brink of death. Thank you for not making me wait, I’d not be here today. That experience inspired me in so many ways and I just want to say, your role in my survival has not been forgotten. I am truly grateful to you all!
Many blessings

I can honestly say that I believe that ALL prisons are haunted. The reason why I say that is because of all the inmates that die in prison from being murdered by other inmates, suicides, executions, etc. I have been to San Quentin. No, not as an inmate, but as a guest. My former best man invited me and my family to have lunch at San Quentin Prison, his name is Sandy Ewing. Sandy's wife for a small period of time was the acting warden of San Quentin and Sandy was a very established attorney for the State of California. From Sandy's home, you could see the prison. When we arrived at the prison to have lunch, we were told not to make any kind of eye contact with the inmates. So, when I was eating my lunch, I definitely kept focused on my food. In my family, I have two former correctional officers that would shower me with stories about working in the prison system. When I was eating my lunch at the prison, the only thing I could think about was just how haunted is this prison?

Fortunately for me, I already knew a few stories. Stories that I didn't get from Sandy, nor did I get them from my family members who work in the prison system. I got my stories from the time I worked as a Key Data Operator in the California Department of Justice. When I worked at the Department of Justice, there were two notable cases I worked on, they were Charles Manson's file and Roman Polanski's file. My job was to key in new information into these files. During my short time at this Department, I met a couple of correctional officers that worked at San Quentin. The first things I asked these two correctional officers is if they ever experienced anything paranormal at the prison and to my surprise both officers said "yes".

Before, I talk about their experiences, let me tell you a story about Amos Lunt, San Quentin's executioner. Amos was a veteran of the Civil War and served with the 3rd Infantry Massachusetts Regiment and he was a former police officer. Amos before becoming San Quentin's executioner had already seen a lot of death. The first execution that Amos performed was for condemned prison Lee Sing who committed a first-degree murder of Ah Kee. Lunt would oversee 20 executions during his career at San Quentin. Lunt started having PTSD when he saw prisoner John Miller's execution. John Miller basically had no neck and Lunt told the warden, perhaps Miller should have a shorter drop, the warden didn't listen to Lunt and when Miller was executed, there was blood all over the place and Miller was practically decapitated. After this execution, Lunt became a mental wreck. Lunt experienced extreme PTSD and claimed that 20 ghosts of the people he executed were haunting him. Lunt felt like he was being followed by ghosts, they would wake him up in the middle of the night. Lunt felt the ghost were trying to kill him. Lunt finally had to be sent to an insane asylum and finally he died on September 19, 1901 at the age of 55.

One of the correctional officers that I befriended made claim that Amos Lunt still haunts the prison and that he has seen the ghost of Lunt during the time he worked at San Quentin. The correctional officer said another time he encountered Lunt, he was sitting on the floor weeping. Both correctional officers said that inmates complain at times about seeing ghosts in their cells and one inmate complained that a ghost kept pulling his blankets off of him. The inmate requested to be moved into another cell in which he eventually was accommodated.

At San Quentin, 215 prisoners were hanged. 196 prisoners went to the gas chamber and 11 have received lethal injection. With all of these deaths, not counting the murders and suicides, there have been a lot of people that died in San Quentin. Women also get executed at San Quentin. Women death row inmates are transferred from Central California Women's Facility (Chowchilla, CA) by bus to San Quentin for execution. That is probably the reason why a couple of inmates have claimed that they saw a ghostly woman at the prison with long brown hair floating around from cell-to-cell.

San Quentin opened in 1852. From 1852 to 1944, when prisoners were interrogated, they were tortured. Some were even tortured to death. That all ended in 1944. The torture of inmates would leave a strong residual energy in the prison. San Quentin was actually named after a Coast Miwok Warrior named Quentin. San Quentin has had its share of infamous notables from Charles Bolles aka Black Bart to the singer Merle Haggard to Charles Manson to S.S. Millard - filmmaker to actor Danny Trejo to Robert Kennedy's assassin Sirhan Sirhan. With all of the negative energy that resonates in this prison, the hauntings must be a hundred-fold.

When I was stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona attending Military Intelligence School, a soldier buddy and I, decided to hitchhike from Fort Huachuca to Phoenix, Arizona and our final destination would be my parent's home in Sacramento, CA to retrieve my vehicle. We did this during the holidays. To sum it up, we got a ride from a semi-truck to Phoenix, we had a stopover at Blythe, CA, spent the night in Los Angeles and finally got a ride from an Air Force guy that took us to my parent's house. We made it to my parent's house on Thanksgiving and my soldier buddy and the Air Force guy had Thanksgiving dinner at my parent's house. The next day, the Air Force guy headed back to the Air Force base where he is stationed at, while my soldier buddy and I, headed to Lake Tahoe to stay in a cabin that my then wife was living at. During this adventure, what I remember most was the strange town of Blythe, CA.

First off, the locals were telling us that UFOs are seen almost on a nightly basis in Blythe, CA. Here is an example, a report that was sent over to MUFON:
Blythe, California (United States)
Sighted on Saturday 20. October 2018
Reported on Monday 22. October 2018
Shape: Cylinder | Duration: 00:00:30
Source: MUFON
Report: Driving from Blythe, CA to Boulder City, NV. using Hwy. 95 about 20 miles north of Blythe. I saw an object as it passed over my vehicle, at about 2000 ft. above me. speed was over 400/500 mph object. The object started dropping closer to the ground as it moved away from me. then it backed to the north around a small mountain did not see any wings when it banked to the left. it then went behind the ridge and i never saw it again.

Also, there are youtube videos of UFOs being seen in Blythe, here is an example:
www.youtube.com/watch?v=pH5iYbsKXXg
UFO Sighting in Blythe, CA

I can only wonder if the UFO activity has anything to do with the Blythe Geoglyphs and the Blythe Intaglios?

Out in the open fields just outside of Blythe are many gigantic figures etched into the ground. The native indigenous American Indians say that they did not create these huge etchings in the ground. They believe that red-haired giants created the etchings and later Aztecs that migrated from Mexico may have set out to preserve the etchings. The etchings on the ground are so huge, they can only be appreciated from the sky. The intaglios are located east of the Big Maria Mountains, about 15 miles north of downtown Blythe, just west of U.S. Highway 95 near the Colorado River. The Blythe Intaglios are the most well-known of the over 200 intaglios in the Colorado Desert. The Blythe Intaglios contain three human figures, two four-legged animals, and a spiral. If you are a believer of the Ancient Astronaut theory, in which I am, I believe the sole purpose of these large etchings were for extraterrestrials. When extraterrestrials left, the indigenous people at the time, made the etchings to entice the extraterrestrials for their return. The red-haired giants may have been hybrids, half human and half extraterrestrial. The land in and around Blythe may be on a leyline with portal qualities that attracts UFO activity to this very day.

Besides geoglyphs and UFOs, we also have ghostly activity in Blythe. On Lost Lake Road, an Indian Chief is sometimes seen walking on the side of the road. He is usually seen on Lost Lake Road, in full garb, wearing a brown leather vest and has long gray/black hair. Jacob Madison, from Phoenix, Arizona encountered the Indian Chief of Lost Lake Road and saw that he had a long-pointed nose and a very wrinkled face. Jacob thought the Indian was alive and called out to him. The Indian Chief continued walking, looking straight ahead and then faded out in the glare of the sun and Jacob realized that he had just seen a ghost. Morgan Taylor from Merced, CA says that he was heading to Phoenix, Arizona and had a stayover in Blythe. He stayed at a Best Western Hotel on W. Donlon Street and in the morning, he was looking out his window and heard the sounds of a motorcycle revving up. When looking out his window, he saw 2 bikers. One biker had a "Monterey Loser" rocker on his leather jacket and the other biker had a "Stockton Skull" rocker on his leather jacket. Both bikers started to head off and then it looked like they went into a bright light portal and vanished. Morgan couldn't believe his eyes. Morgan says that either he saw two biker ghosts, or he saw two living bikers vanish into a portal. Morgan says this happened in July of 1989. A woman storekeeper that I talked to told me that back in the 1930s a "Thunderbird" was seen flying in the skies over the geoglyphs. The storekeeper believes that there is a paranormal gateway in Blythe which causes all of this high strangeness. I have to agree with the storekeeper.

Time of Paranormal Hotline Call: 11:16pm
Date of Paranormal Hotline Call: 12/12/2022
Client's Name: Raymond Juarez of San Rafael, CA
Case # 36B088C873Y87
Subject: Raymond found a metal object that is not from this Earth.

THE STORY:
Raymond says that he went fishing at Lake Havasu, Arizona. The date was March 5, 2021. Time was 6am. While fishing Raymond noticed a silver object in the shallow water. The metal object had unusual properties. The object is 10 inches in length and 10 inches in width. When you touch or hold the metal, it feels like radiation is coming off the metal. It looks like it is made of pure silver. It weighs 10 pounds. Raymond blasted the metal object with 3000 degrees of heat and all the metal object did was get colder. It did not melt. When striking the metal with a hammer, no marks or dents are placed on the object. Raymond says when holding the object, it's like holding a smartphone. There is a strange signature on the metal object that resembles "2H86". The metal object damaged his diamond blade, it made the blade dull. The metal object is very hard. Raymond believes the metal object is from an extraterrestrial craft. Raymond had the metal object tested several times and all of the testers say the object is made of an unknown metal. Now Raymond is ready to reveal what he has and wants the metal RETESTED by a media source and reveal the information to the public.

RAYMOND WANTS THE METAL OBJECT TESTED TO SEE WHAT ELEMENTS ARE CONTAINED IN THE OBJECT. RAYMOND DOES NOT WANT ANY GOVERNMENT AGENCY TO TEST THE METAL. RAYMOND SAYS IF THIS METAL OBJECT IS FROM AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL SOURCE, HE WOULD LIKE THE INFORMATION TO BE GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC AND BELIEVES THAT IT'S TIME FOR DISCLOSURE.

Raymond's Own Words:
"How long will it take to get the information out? How long before our country knows? The metal object has been tested twice in California, twice in Washington, and once in Oregon and all of the testers told me the same thing, it's an alien alloy. The metal is not from this Earth. The metal is not known by man.

UFOs/UAP at Lake Havasu, Arizona
March 2021 was a busy month for UFO/UAP sightings in Lake Havasu. Reports came in that orb like lights were dancing around a large cloud. Here is one report:
"We were in our outdoor spa, which we do most nights. The moon was one day from full so the sky was illuminated. There was a large cloud in the west and we both noticed moving orb like lights within the cloud. They were moving at a very fast speed, almost like they were playing or chasing each other. When it looked like they would leave the cloud they would disappear only to reappear within the cloud seconds later. This went on for 5 plus minutes until the cloud dispersed. The cloud disappeared and so did the orbs. We tried to film it with an I-phone but nothing appeared as it was the night sky."

When my wife Deanna Jaxine Stinson lived in Eagle River, Wisconsin and later in Deer Lodge, Montana, her father would take Deanna and her sister Abby to Lake Michigan to go snowboarding. Deanna and Abby had a paranormal experience at Lake Michigan, but before I get into that let's take a look at Lake Michigan. Many people wind up missing at Lake Michigan and there is no real explanation on the disappearances. If you look at the drowning incidents, Lake Michigan has 45% of the drownings, compared to the other great lakes. 108 people drowned in Lake Michigan in 2020 and 101 people drowned in 2021. With the drownings and disappearances, locals feel the lake is cursed and have given Lake Michigan the nickname of "The Lake Michigan Triangle". The triangle goes from Ludington, Michigan to Benton Harbor, Michigan to Manitowoc, Wisconsin. In the triangle, people have disappeared, ships have disappeared and even planes have disappeared. The Lake Michigan Triangle is as dangerous as the Bermuda Triangle, Alaska Triangle, The Devil's Sea aka the Dragon's Triangle (in the region of the Pacific, south of Tokyo) and the Sargosso Sea.

In the Lake Michigan Triangle, a ship called the Le Griffon vanished in 1679. Le Griffon was a large trade ship and to this day, they have never recovered any of the wreckage of this ship. There is no trace of its large cargo and the crew vanished. Where did this ship go? There are stories that people have seen portals opening up in the skies over Lake Michigan. UFOs and UAP (Unidentified Aerial Phenomena) have been seen numerous times at Lake Michigan.

One of the strangest cases at the Lake Michigan Triangle is when Steven Kubacki disappeared and then re-appeared. Steven on a snowy day took a break from Hope College, where he was a full-time student. It was February 1978 when Steven decided to embark on a cross-country skiing adventure that would only last a couple of days. Steven somehow disappeared for a whole year and three months. Search and Rescue followed his footsteps onto the frozen lake and then the footsteps abruptly stopped. There was no indication that he went back to his original resting place. It was like he was scooped up into oblivion. Search and Rescue thought maybe he fell into the lake somewhere and was caught underneath the ice. The search team found his skis and backpack, but no Steven.

Then the story gets even weirder. On May 5, 1979, one year and three months, Steven was back! He found himself laying in the grass at Pittsfield, Massachusetts, which is 700 miles from Lake Michigan. Steven told reporters that he was wearing clothes that did not belong to him and was carrying a backpack that contained maps. Steven had no explanation for his disappearance, the strange clothes he was wearing and carrying a backpack that didn't belong to him. Steven could not recall where he has been for 1 year and 3 months. He felt like he did a lot of running. Steven had no memory whatsoever of his disappearance. An added note, Steven was also wearing a t-shirt that indicates a Wisconsin marathon. Steven does not know where this t-shirt came from, but yet he was wearing it.

Here is a theory. Was Steven abducted by a UFO and when the UFO occupants decided that they no longer wanted Steven, they returned him back to Earth and dropped him off at the wrong location and placed clothes on him that belong to another abductee? Some abductees have made claim that when they were returned back to Earth, they were dropped off in an area that they were not familiar with. Abductee Travis Walton was dropped off by the UFO alongside a highway and not the forest where he was originally abducted at. Another abductee was dropped off 30 miles from where his car was stalled at. Most abductees have memory loss like Steven and only through regressive hypnosis, that they are able to recall what happened to them. It would only seem logical that Steven was abducted. His footprints in the snow stopped abruptly, he was missing for 1 year and 3 months, he was 700 miles from his original spot at Lake Michigan and he was wearing strange clothes. Steven has all of the earmarks of being abducted and he was in the Lake Michigan Triangle which is known for its paranormal high strangeness.

Now let's talk about Deanna and her sister Abby. On one particular day at Lake Michigan, while they were snowboarding, Deanna observed an orange globe hovering in the sky. As Deanna watched the globe, she received a mental message that she believes originates with the globe. The message was "do you want to come with us?" Deanna in her mind, kept saying "no". The globe then blinked out and it was no longer hovering over Lake Michigan. Abby saw the globe, but thought nothing of it. Abby did not receive any messages as she was enjoying her time on Lake Michigan snowboarding. Special Note: Deanna has had many encounters with UFO phenomena and as a little girl in Auburn, California, she feels she was abducted by a UFO in which she calls "the mysterious eye", because to her, it looked like an eye.

Today while walking my dogs Story and Champagne, I saw my neighbor Ot Man clearing out some yard waste. Ot Man is my neighbor's nickname and I will refer him as Ot Man in this article. Ot Man and his family are from Azerbaijan. Azerbaijan is located in southwestern Asia. The Great Caucasus Mountains are to the North, the Caspian Sea is to the East, Armenia to the West and Georgia and Russia to the North. One of the questions I asked Ot Man "is it safe to travel to Azerbaijan"? Ot Man said when in his country, you have to keep a watchful eye for any armed conflicts and terrorism. Not the greatest place to go as a tourist. Ot Man knows I am a paranormal investigator and asked me about some of my upcoming investigations. That lead the conversation to a question I love asking. That question to Ot Man "is Azerbaijan a haunted country"? Ot Man said "definitely".

Ot Man told me about the beautiful Ramana Tower (Castle). This tower was built in the 12th century and was mostly used as a defense location. The tower is located in the Ramana village of Baku. During the Shirvanshah's reign, the tower was utilized by the Azerbaijan forces against the Ottoman empire. With conflicts comes death and the tower to this day is haunted from past conflicts. Ot Man says late at night, you can hear battle screams. Ot Man had his own experience at the tower. Ot Man came face-to-face with a ghostly Azerbaijan warrior holding a long blade. The ghostly warrior walked past Ot Man. Ot Man says that it seemed like the ghost did not notice him. I explained to Ot Man, that he probably witnessed residual energy. Ot Man said in one area of the tower, it was ice cold. The ice cold room stayed cold for a good 10 minutes and then it was warm again. Ot Man said it was a hot day and there was no reason for that room to be so cold. Ot Man feels that there were spirits in that room, which caused the room to turn cold. Ot Man said he would never want to visit this tower during the night. There were areas of the tower, that caused him to have goosebumps, because some areas of the tower are just plain creepy. Those are Ot Man's words.

Ot Man says one of the most haunted areas in Azerbaijan, is where the Khojaly Massacre took place at. Azerbaijan and Armenia got into a conflict on February 26, 1992. The conflict began when the Soviet Union dissolved. The Armenian Army took over the town of Khojaly. The Armenian Army used heavy artillery and tanks. 613 civilians were killed. The conflict was extremely violent and bloody. 1,275 Azerbaijanis were missing and are believed to be dead. This conflict was horrendous in every way, not only were people killed, but they were also tortured. Armenian soldiers took some of their captives and set them on fire. Some victims of this conflict had their scalps peeled off, ears cut off, noses cut off, eyes removed and their privates cut off. There seemed to be no limit to the violence that the captives faced by Armenian forces. Some of the captives were children and elderly people.

Ot Man says the areas where the conflict took place, locals can hear people screaming late at night. The screams are from the dead. Ot Man says that his own family has seen apparitions wandering around the countryside and on the streets late at night. Ot Man says that a former school mate came across a man on his knees, he was bleeding from his head and yelling "mena komek edin" which means "help me". Ot Man's former school mate was so scared, that he ran from the apparition. He knew it was a ghost, because the ghost was transparent in some places of his body.

Ot Man assured me that Azerbaijan is very haunted and will remain haunted until the end of time. Ot Man says that too much tragedy has happened in Azerbaijan and this dark history will stay with the country forever.

FOLLOW UP TO THE HAUNTING ACTIVITY AT HEARST CASTLE:
MESSAGE FROM SEBASTIAN MIZGALA:
"Was just googling things about the place. I was there few days ago and in the dining room I felt light-headed and felt a pinching in my heart. I'm healthy and was fine everywhere else. I'm also an Air Force vet. I never felt a fainting sensation in my life, before in my life. It was very strange, a couple gave away their ticket to go to the rest of the castle. Me and my fiancé didn't go. We were here on our honeymoon. The part of the castle where I experienced the paranormal activity was good enough for me."

Activity: Shadow people seen, objects move around on their own. Curtains knocked down to the floor. In the 1800s there was an asylum that was there, it was torn down and the restaurant and bar is now there. Believe this or not, the main entity drinks alcohol. Alcohol disappears from bottles. HISTORY:
The Enfuzion Bar Lounge is located in Citrus Heights. Right across the street from the Enfuzion Bar is the 12 Mile House. The 12 Mile House was built in the 1800s. This establishment was used as a Teamster Way Station and later became a bar up to 1998. The 12 Mile House is one of the oldest establishments in Citrus Heights. Here are my thoughts, since the Enfuzion Bar is right across the street from the 12 Mile House, perhaps some of the spirit activity has bled over from the 12 Mile House to the Enfuzion Bar. So, with my team, our plan of action is to investigate inside and outside of the Enfuzion Bar and take a walk across the street and investigate the 12 Mile House. There is plenty of history in Citrus Heights. The Plains Miwok tribes and the Valley Nisenan (Maidu) tribes once had settlements on this land. In 1863 ground was broken in this area of Citrus Heights for the Pacific Railroad, that went into the Central Township. There were many injuries and work-related deaths on the railroad tracks. When I lived in Citrus Heights, locals told me that on Old Auburn Road, you would see a light in the distance and when you approached the light, the light would disappear. Locals believe that this ghostly light was the "Lamp Man", a railroad worker who was killed on the railroad tracks. In the 1860s, Corneilius Donahue built a ranch in Citrus Heights and there were a few work-related deaths on his ranch. In 1932 during the Great Depression, fruit farming came to a halt in Citrus Heights and there were stories that some farm workers died of starvation in the area of Citrus Heights. Only 8 minutes away from Enfuzion Bar Lounge is Camp Kohler, which was a temporary detention center for 4700 Japanese Americans in 1942. At this Camp were stories of Japanese Americans who died at this Camp. I have investigated some homes in Citrus Heights that were haunted by Japanese Americans that were incarcerated at this Camp and perhaps this might have something to do with the haunting at the Enfuzion Bar Lounge. More recent deaths near this bar are deaths on Auburn Blvd. Recent deaths are a bicyclist killed by a vehicle, death by gunfire during a road rage incident and death by car accident. Deanna Jaxine Stinson aka Wish Fire lived in an apartment at Citrus Heights that was haunted. Also, I might mention that the notorious Joseph James DeAngelo aka the Golden State Killer lived in Citrus Heights. So, as you can see, Citrus Heights has a lot of dark history and there could be many reasons why this bar is haunted. Now let's look at the investigation.

HPI PARANORMAL INVESTIGATORS ROLL CALL:

THE INVESTIGATION:
We conducted an investigation during the time that the bar/restaurant was open. There were many patrons watching the football game. In the main area, there was a lot of noise, but that was okay, we went into the quiet spots, like the office area, the side entrance and patio. We also investigated the 12 Mile House across the street. We were very successful in obtaining EVPs. Wish Fire pointed out in the office area, she was getting a vision of a large butterfly, which represents how a butterfly undergoes a miraculous metamorphosis, they become symbols of transformation, change, rebirth, and even resurrection. Wish Fire and Catherine both pointed out an area on the side of this establishment that has spirit activity. I did manage to get 2 EVPs that were unintelligible. At the 12 Mile House, we obtained an EVP that said "hello". We could not get the entity to identify himself or herself and decided it was time to do a cleansing. I did a four winds prayer on the establishment, which covers everything. The cleansing was a Roman Catholic cleansing. Since it was Christmas Eve, Wish Fire gave blessed wooden incense boxes to everyone and inside the incense boxes were incense. Wish Fire also gave out blessed candles. Wish Fire, Catherine and Cat were very helpful in identifying areas that were hotspots for spirit activity. Justin and Nghia will analyze their photos to see if they captured any anomalies in their photos. This was a very interesting investigation and I hope that my cleansing was successful.
